This document is a dialogue which takes place in a class-room, between two characters : the author, Troy Jones, and his teacher, Mrs Linda Hass. Ther are speaking about rap and their opinions are different. The author likes rap and thinks, as an other teacher Mr. Salas, that songs describe correctly the reality. Mrs. Hass hates rap (“I've never heard an itelligent rap, much less an intelligent rapper”) and, according to the author, she is stupid. So, Mrs. Hass decides to phone the principal and to remove the pupil from the classroom, with the collaboration of the hall monitor.
